1952

The Arcadian
1952

Foreword

Our highest aim for our 1952 Arcadian is to leave pleasant memories with the people of our school and community.

We have published this memory book with the cooperation of many of the students from the Junior and Senior classes.

In these pages we present in picture and in story the highlights and activities of one school year.

We want to leave a pleasant memory with our readers and we hope our efforts have not been in vain.

Published by the Arcadia Senior Class of 1952

Dedication

The Senior Class of 1952 respectfully dedicates this Arcadian to Mr. J. C. Kieffer, our teacher and superintendent. After thirty-six years of faithful service, Mr. Kieffer is retiring from the teaching profession. He began his career in 1914 at old No. 4, sometimes called the Hosler School, two miles north of Arcadia. Then for two years he taught in the old school building in Arcadia, in the third room, called the grammar room, made up of grades six, seven, and eight. In 1918 his teaching career was interrupted for service overseas with the Marines in World War I. In 1920 he taught for one year in high school in the old building, followed by two more years in high school in the present building. In September of 1924 he became Superintendent and has continued in that capacity to the present time.

His first college work was a summer term at Ohio University in 1914. He later attended Bowling Green and Findlay Colleges. In 1924 he graduated with a B. S. in Education from Ohio Northern University. His graduate work was done at Chicago University and at Ohio State University from which he received the degree of Master of Arts in 1936.

We do not know how to measure accurately the value of a lifetime of teaching, but we do know that a whole lifetime devoted in such full measure to the best training of young people of a community must have a tremendous constructive influence upon the life of that community. May the lives of his students bring a firm conviction to Mr. Kieffer that his job has been well done.

The Senior class of '52' hopes that this year-book, the 1952 Arcadian, meets the approval of its readers and will merit the mark of success. Some rearrangements and a few changes have been made.

The aim of the 1952 Arcadian is to develop the personalities of the students and faculty of the school. Because one soon forgets, this year-book will serve as a reminder of old friends and of interesting events that have happened during the school year.

The sale of Annuals was conducted by a new method this year. Each of the upper eight grades was a team. The fifth grade won the contest and was awarded a dinner.

For the sixth year Mr. Groth was our advisor.

Again this year the Juniors assisted the Seniors. Needed experience was gained by the Juniors, so that next year they might publish a new and improved annual.

Board of Education

SITTING: Lester Cosbin, vice-president; Clyde Pepple; Dorothea Mengert, clerk.
STANDING: Robert Painter, Frank Saltzman, Robert Beamer, president.

This has been a year of more than the usual amount of work for our Board of Education. They have had the responsibility of exercising intelligent foresight in their decisions in connection with the new addition to our building.

At the same time they have continued to support school policies which enable our school to remain on the lists of the appropriate accrediting agencies. Mrs. Mengert has continued the efficient handling of her duties.

Senior Class History

It was with a feeling of great anticipation and satisfaction that a small group of children entered into their school career as first-graders in September, 1940. This class was the future graduating class of 1952. Upon reaching the end of our first year in school, we had our graduation exercises in which we had the distinction of wearing caps and capes at our miniature commencement, in May, 1941, along with the Seniors. This was a big moment in our lives, for we felt we were really growing up when we were handed our diplomas.

The first six years of our school career hurried by, while we lost many of our members, and also acquired a number of new ones. While in the fifth and sixth grades, a number of us took part in the Elementary Chorus. In the sixth grade, we took part in the operetta "Peter Rabbit."

Advancing to the seventh grade, we found ourselves going higher in our school career upstairs, with the upper classmen. Our class felt very proud of themselves when we got to enter a number of boys in Junior High Basketball.

The one main event of the eighth grade was the State tests. During the year we enjoyed a number of class parties with chaperones, much to our disgust!

When we finally entered high school, we felt we had really reached a milestone in our lives. We were officially christened "Freshmen" when we were initiated by the Sophomores. We then assumed the role of High School members and elected the following officers: President, Donna Damon; Vice President, Duane Beamer; Secretaries, Don Smith and Lila Huysman; Treasurer, Shirley Russell; Reporter, Elnora Kave; and Student Council Representatives, Ellen Gassman and John Ridenour. We chose the Red Rose as our Class flower, the colors, Blue and Gold, and for our Class Motto, "He Conquers Who Endures." Many of us took part in the operetta, "Words and Music." Our class showed outstanding abilities in the fields of sports and in the arts of music. The Spring Prom found many young dancers from the Freshman class, entering into the first great event of their social world.

Continuing our High School career, we found ourselves Sophomores the next fall. We had the satisfaction of entertaining the entire High School at our first High School party given in November, 1949. To our amazement, it was a roaring success. We enjoyed "treating" the poor Freshmen "Greenies" to a lively initiation—much to their dismay. For our class officers we chose John Ridenour, President; Duane Beamer, Vice President; Shirley Russell, Secretary and Reporter; Jack Wheland, Treasurer; and Ellen Gassman and Wayne Smith, Student Council.

As the Junior Class of 1950-51, we assumed a much heavier load as students of Arcadia High School. We were honored to be able to help the Seniors publish the 1951 "Arcadian." We had seven distinguished members on the National Honor Society. Presenting the Broadway hit "Dear Ruth," our class play, was our first attempt to show our dramatic ability. It proved very successful. Many of the class took part in the operetta "Gypsy Rover." Ordering our class rings was an exciting event which everyone had looked forward to. The Junior Class entertained the Senior graduating class at the Junior-Senior Banquet held at the Civic Nic-Nac on May 11, 1951. Under the leadership of Duane Beamer, President; Neil Weaver, Vice President; Virginia Beamer, Secretary and Reporter; Billy Fruth, Treasurer; and Shirley Russell and Neil Weaver as representatives to Student Council, we completed a very profitable year.

Seniors—at last! We entered upon the final part of our school career. The first event of the year was the Senior Play "Good Housekeeping," which was given November 3 and 5, 1951. We entertained the High School at a party in December. Publishing the 1952 "Arcadian" proved to be a big undertaking, but it was accomplished successfully. Mr. Blauvelt has been our class sponsor throughout our four years in high school. Leading the Seniors as officers of our last year in school are—President, Duane Beamer; Vice President, Neil Weaver; Secretary, Lila Huysman; Treasurer, Werner Lemke; Reporter, Kay Kieffer; and Student Council Representatives, Shirley Russell and Jack Wheland. The Juniors honored us at the Junior-Senior Banquet in May. Baccalaureate Services were held Sunday, May 18, with Rev. Fred Ross as the speaker. Commencement Exercises were held the 24th of May. Dr. Tennyson Guyer gave the address. Of the twenty-nine students who started school here in the first grade, only ten finished the twelve years together.

Now that we have completed our high school career, we want to set forth into new worlds of experiences and duties fortified with the knowledge acquired during the past twelve years. May we be found to be young men and women adequately mature mentally and socially for our years so that we can strive successfully to follow our motto—"HE CONQUERS WHO ENDURES."

—Donna June Damon

For He That Endures Shall Conquer

Looking back o'er memories dear,
So many things have disappeared
From grade school, and those childhood days
From September on through May

Year by year we grow and strive
For things to do through life,
Friends we've made and left behind,
The teachers with their hearts so kind

Through clubs and plays and studies past
We did so much, but yet so fast,
Those days that were so dear and blest
Are gone forever like the rest

Going o'er the path we've trod
On and on to higher sod
Opportunities and careers
Stand wide open through the years

From now on we're on our own
So let's go on with what we know,
To build our lives and to be strong
And build the peace for which we've longed

With the help and love of God
We'll go on down the path we've trod
For all the glory, laud, and honor
For he who endures shall also conquer

"Class Will"

We, the Senior Class, of Arcadia High School, in this year of 1952, being of sound mind and body, will the following traits, characteristics, oddities, and possessions to whomever it may concern

ARTICLE I

To the Junior Class, we will our quiet ways and modest manners. Do they need them??

ARTICLE II

To the Sophomore Class, we will the ability to get into trouble

ARTICLE III

To the Freshmen Class, we will the chance to grow up

ARTICLE IV

Donna June Damon wills her blonde hair to Carol Kunn. Might need a little peroxide, Carol.

Shirley Russell wills her ability to get the car whenever she wants it to Pat Emerine. Now you won't have to hitch-hike, Pat.

Neil Weaver wills his height to Joe Steyer. You won't have to jump for the ball now, Joe.

Doris Street bequeaths her typing accuracy to Larry Myers. Now we'll have less broken typewriters!

Donna Gaertner wills her ability to flirt with the boys to Mary Dicken. Don't get too many on the string!

Gene Wedge wills his variety of girl friends to Jim Woodward. Now you can have a change, Jim.

Sue England wills her quiet ways to Shirley Lennart. Don't misuse them, Shirley.

Clara Buchanan leaves her place in the Senior Quartet to Jim Warren. Let's make good use of it, Jim

Ted Rader wills his fast talking to Janet Boes. Let's slow down a little, Janet

Kay Kietter wills her locker to any girl that has a boyfriend who will hold it up.

Donna Mae Eisenhower bequeaths her athletic ability to Peggy Fox

Reid Hill bequeaths his ability to sleep in literature class to Floyd Hissong. Let's not overdo it

To Carol Kietter goes Lila Huysman's numerous blushes. Don't have a red face all the time.

Evangeline Ross wills her natural curly hair to Shirlee Farrell. Take good care of it.

Duane Beamer wills his position as class president to anyone who has plenty of time, plenty of patience, and plenty of aspirins

Elnora Kave wills her boy friends in Lima to anybody who frequently visits there.

Billy Fruth bequeaths his ability to run the picture machine to anyone who has enough skill to do it

Jack Wheland wills his ability to skip school to Lanny Semler. Let's not get caught the next time

Virginia Beamer wills her numerous boy friends to Marilyn Plotts. Now you can have more variety, Marilyn.

Werner Lemke wills his scholastic ability to Carl Ziessler. Now you won't have to study, Carl Ellen Gassman wills her brown eyes to Janet Ziessler. Now they'll match your hair.

We therefore sign, seal, and deliver this, our last will and testament

Signed
Ellen Gassman

Senior Play

This year under the direction of Mrs. Irene Sharninghouse, the Seniors produced a very successful play entitled "Good Housekeeping."

What happens in a normal American family when Mother—armed with a big psychology book—sets out to get everybody happy? When Mother is the imaginative Marian Burnett, the answer is pandemonium.

Dignified Father, president of the state university, is paraded over Marian's shoulders by four girl cheerleaders and drawn into a clash with the local politician. Daughters Chris and Katy almost lose their boy friends, and Marian her happy home.

But underneath the comedy and drama, illuminating them with understanding and sympathy, is the warm story of a youthful and attractive woman, who with teen-age daughters and a tyrant in the kitchen finds herself no longer needed by her family. That problem is grave enough to make a tragedy, but because the Burnetts love each other and are not afraid to stand toe-to-toe and slug out their difficulties in family argument, GOOD HOUSEKEEPING ends happily.

Prophecy

On a warm spring day in May of 1962, I entered Grand Central Station to board the "Speedway Limited", the train which was bound for that great metropolitan city of Arcadia, Ohio.

As I boarded the train, who should I see but a former classmate, LILA HUYSMAN, now the wife of the world-famous millionaire, Ranny Rogers. She seemed to be happy with her new position as the Woman's Social Leader of the world.

Upon arriving at the Nickel Plate Terminal in Arcadia, I saw TED RADER, new owner and manager of the Nickel Plate Railroad. It seems Ted is so rich he doesn't know whether to buy out Ali Kahn or to buy the B & O Railroad.

As I walked down Main Street, I saw a large neon sign which read, "WERNER LEMKE, M. D." I was quite interested, so I walked into his large waiting room, which was a beautiful sight to behold. His waiting room was filled to capacity. His nurse, much to my surprise, was DONNA EISENHAUER. She helped me find a chair and I sat down to wait my turn to see Dr. Lemke.

While I waited I had the opportunity of listening to Arthur Godfrey's morning radio program. The next song was "Daddy's Little Girl," sung by the "Seniorettes". The members of this quartet were none other than CLARA BUCHANAN, VIRGINIA BEAMER, DONNA JUNE DAMON, and SUE ENGLAND. They also appear on Godfrey's television show and have gained world-wide fame. They have won every type of quartet-singing contest. After this song there was a pause for station identification when I was amazed to learn that station JERK was owned by JACK WHELAND. Jack has made his money by selling strawberry flavored potato chips. ELLEN GASSMAN is his chief adviser and SHIRLEY RUSSELL is his personal secretary.

Donna then informed me that it was my turn to see the doctor. As I walked into his spacious office, I noted the clean ultra-modern equipment.

We immediately began to discuss our former classmates who were not living in Arcadia.

I was very happy to learn that Captain DUANE BEAMER was doing well after his hitch in the Coast Guard and now he is Commander of a fleet of shrimp boats.

The largest library building in the world can be found in Arcadia. Yes, you guessed it. Our classmate, KAY KIEFFER, is Head Librarian. She is noted for her fine Children's Hour which has recently been televised over station RKD.

EVANGELINE ROSS is now president of the Nurses Training School here in Arcadia. Dr. Lemke says her nurses are the best-trained nurses in the world.

ELNORA KAVE is now the head of the Commercial Colleges of America. This is a group of well-organized commercial schools of America whose graduates are of the highest standard.

Our conversation drifted on to other classmates. REID HILL is now head of The International Hog Producer's Association. It seems that he has been able to produce the largest hogs on record and BILL FRUTH has also broken records by producing the most grain per acre.

DORIS STREET is working for Dr. Lemke as Head of Pediatrics. Doris has always had the ability to hum and sing soft tunes. She now puts the children to sleep in the hospital.

NEIL WEAVER has almost achieved his goal as President of the Amalgamated Rabbit Producers Association of America. He is the CIO Representative from Ohio and is the leading contender for the nomination for President of the A. F. of L. He had gained his fame through his ability in debate.

GENE WEDGE has worked his way to the top as a movie star. He still has the same old difficulty of keeping the girls away.

As I bade farewell to Dr. Lemke, I went back to my career as the one and only authority on excuses for Seniors to skip school.

Student Council

SEATED: Barbara Good, Bob Good, Shirley Russell, Carol Kietter, Mrs. Covert
STANDING: Reid Hill, Ronald Stall, Janet Ziessler, Betty Fruth, Shirley Ratney, Jack Wheland, Janet Ziessler, Lewis Campbell, Harold Nye, Neil Weaver

The Student Council of the year 1951-52 was composed of fourteen members two from each of the upper four grades, two from the F. H. A., two from the F. F. A. and two from our new club, the Varsity A. The following were elected officers

President.....	Shirley Russell
Vice President.....	Robert Good
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Carol Kieffer
Reporter....	Barbara Good

Our first important event was the Homecoming, October 26. The crowning of the Queen, Ellen Gassman, took place at halftime of the Van Buren Arcadia football game. The attendants were Freshmen—Lloyd Thomas, Rita Grine, Sophomores—Shirley Jack, Bill Peters, Juniors—Shirley Farrell, Floyd Hissong, Seniors—Barbara Fullhart, Jack Wheland.

The Student Council planned the schedule for the high school parties throughout the year and also sponsored a few dances after the ball games. The Student Council took charge of two high school assemblies, one of which was Remembrance Day, a day all students look forward to. We also sponsored a Good English campaign.

We made arrangements for a Spring Prom which was held in May.

The Hancock County Chapter of the National Honor Society was started in 1946. Its charter members from Arcadia were Alan Kieffer, Juanita Knepper, Mary Nickelson, Lucille Shaul, Alice Saltzman and Irene Huffman. Since that time the students have strived to achieve the honor of becoming a member of this National organization.

To become a member of this organization one must excel in character, scholarship, leadership, and service. We have the honor of having seven Seniors graduating this year in National Honor Society. They are Werner Lemke, Donna Gaertner, Donna June Damon, Shirley Russell, Ellen Gassman, Kay Kieffer, and Evangeline Ross.

Three social meetings and a banquet were held this year. The first social meeting of the Hancock County Honor Society was held at Vanlue November 7, 1951. During the evening the students from the other county schools enjoyed the evening by playing "get acquainted games," active games, and best of all a "truth or consequences."

Afterwards, delicious refreshments were served and the time was spent in conversation. These social meetings are valuable because we are able to meet students from other schools and compare our school and school subjects with others.

The next meeting was held at McComb January 23, 1952. This meeting was also spent in games after which delicious refreshments were served.

The banquet is held each spring. This year the banquet was held at Mt. Cory-Rawson. Each year after the banquet new members are formally initiated, there is election of officers and we listen to an address. After the returns from the election were read, we had the group pictures taken of the Junior and Senior groups. It is at this time that the new members receive their pins and membership cards.

The Junior members of the Honor Society from Arcadia this year were James Steyer, John Carter, Floyd Hissong, Glen Saltzman, Shirley Rainey, and Janet Boes.

THIRD ROW: Mrs. Wykoff, Mrs. Gassman, Mrs. Kuhn, Mrs. Goertner, Mrs. Kave, Mrs. Beamer, Mrs. Rainey, Mrs. Fox

The Arcadia Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was an active group under the sponsorship of Mrs. Virginia Wykoff. The following were elected officers: President, Kay Kieffer; Vice President, Shirley Lenhart; Secretary, Pat Emerine; Treasurer, Ellen Gassman; Historian, Shirley Russell; Parliamentarian, Janet Ziessler; Reporter, Pat Butler; Song Leader, Donna Damon; and Student Council Representatives, Shirley Rainey and Barbara Good.

Entering a float in the Hancock County Fair and winning third place was the first event of the year.

The F. H. A. Initiation was as usual, an exciting party for all—including the Freshmen. The upper classmen enjoyed watching the Freshmen struggle through their antics while wearing their peculiar costumes.

On October 6, a meeting for girls wanting to work for their third degree was held in Columbus. Those attending were Shirley Russell, Donna Gaertner, Virginia Beamer, Donna June Damon, Ellen Gassman, and Lila Huysman.

The F. H. A. Banquet was held April 18. A program including musical numbers and a speaker followed a very enjoyable meal.

During the Freshman year in F. H. A., each girl must complete three projects to be able to acquire her full Home Economics credit of the year. Also, during the second, third, and fourth years she must finish four projects to be able to receive her credits.

The F. H. A. has one meeting a month, held during the sixth period on Thursdays. We discuss the events and parties we want to sponsor. This year the F. H. A. had concessions at one of the football games. In that way and by selling vanilla, the club made enough money to pay for the F. H. A. letters which each girl receives after she has a minimum number of credits.

Through the school year, there are two Bi-County F. H. A. meetings held at the different schools. The meetings include a program, which includes sending Red Cross boxes and clothes to needy people abroad.

As in other clubs, the F. H. A., too, gives degrees to those who earn them. To earn a degree a member must be cooperative in club work, be understanding of others, be a fairly good leader in any kind of work and have all projects completed. A test is given before the degrees are conferred upon the students. There are four degrees of which the symbols are: the key for the Junior Homemaker, the scroll for the Chapter Homemaker, the torch for the State Homemaker, the rose for the American Homemaker, all of which, when received, are fastened onto the F. H. A. pin and guard. These degrees are a symbol of the honor, the loyalty, and achievement of the individual towards the Future Homemakers of America.

"Quiet Summer" was a rollicking comedy with an amusing and interesting theme. As part of the plan for becoming District Attorney, James Clark hoped to spend the summer in peace and get elected president of his country club. His niece and nephew from New York were unexpectedly left with him for the summer. Uncle Jimmie had to learn about the younger generation and even received some unconventional aid in winning the election, but his house was turned into a combination rum-pus room and campaign headquarters while Pamela and Sonny got involved in romance and adventures that taught them a few things, too.

The library staff is under the direction of Mrs. Irene Sharninghouse and her assistant, Kay Kieffer. Several new books have been added to the library and each librarian must work one period for which they receive one-fourth credit. We are very proud of the efficiency that we maintain in our library.

The choir, now progressing in its thirteenth year, started this season with a new instructor, Mr. Pittenger.

The choir consists of forty members from the Freshman through the Senior class.

Several members of the choir were chosen to participate in the All County Music Festival which was held January 26, 1952 at Cory-Rawson.

We are especially proud of our boys' section of the choir. Besides having a love for music, several of the boys have excellent solo voices.

The choir also made several other successful appearances by singing before the high school assembly and the Parent Teacher Association.

The most favorite selections were "Sylvia" by Olly Speaks, "Oklahoma" by Rogers and Hammerstein and "The Big Coral" by Harry R. Wilson. Accompanying the choir at the piano was Mary Weaver.

STANDING Mr. Pittenger, Werner Lemke, Mary A

The Arcadia School Orchestra is composed of twenty members from the eighth grade through high school. The orchestra are seven violins, five clarinets, three trumpets, one saxophone, one snare drum, and one bass drum. Carol Reid is the accompanist.

Mr. Pittenger, has played for several years in the orchestra. He has played in the Senior Play, High School Assembly, Junior Play, and in the orchestra. A few of our favorite selections have been "The Swan Lake", "The Nutcracker", "The Firebird", and "Festival March".

We had try outs from which they chose the best players and the ones that were not good enough. We were very strict in our selection. We were they could play better, then they were in the orchestra.

We are proud of our orchestra and enjoy playing the many different compositions. We will keenly feel the loss of our Seniors, Donna Damon, Clara Buchanan, Werner Lemke, and Ellen Gassman.

We will have practice on Tuesday and Friday, according to a rotating schedule of class time.

 FIFTH ROW: Geraldine King, Bobby Farrell, Danny Kuhlman, Gene Switzer, David Thompson, Tom Bickel, Johnny Diebley, Dick Ziessler, Billy Ambrecht, Dale Ebersole, Ruthann Smith

The Arcadia Band, under the direction of the new instructor, Mr. Pittenger, is composed of thirty-five members ranging from the fifth grade through high school. We play at all the football games as well as at P.T.A. and P.T.O. meetings.

A few selections that we used for the football games were "Across the Field", "Victory March", "Wave the Flag", and "Four Leaf Clover". During the Coronation ceremony at the Homecoming game we played "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody". The various formations we used were "A" for Arcadia and "H" while we played and marched across the field. We also made the letters "V.B." for Van Buren. Four Leaf Clover was formed, then a Heart and last a "Horse Shoe" was outlined.

The Arcadia Band has several young musicians which intimates that the Band has a very promising future in store for them.

The Band participated in the Fostoria Halloween Parade and the Homecoming festival at Arlington. Janet Ziessler, Pat Emerine, Janet Shiley, Gertrude Marvin, Barbara Agnew, Gerald Marvin, and Billy Ambrecht were selected to play in the all-county band in the Musical Festival which was held at Cory-Rawson in January.

The Band Boosters purchased a bell lyre for the band which blends very nicely with the rest of the instruments.

Our new coach, Robert Robinson, had the unenviable job of building a football team around only three lettermen. Although he makes no excuses for our 3 won—6 lost record, it's a fact that he was plagued by injuries throughout the season. We feel that he has done a commendable job, especially in the development of some of the Sophomores and Juniors who should win some games for him in the next couple years.

We had four players who were selected for the coaches' All-Hancock County Team: Duane Beamer, Larry Myers, Werner Lemke, and Glen Saltzman. Our captain, Duane Beamer, was selected for the All Hancock County Team by the Toledo Blade.

Seniors who played their last games for Arcadia were Beamer, Lemke, Hill and Wedge.
